Calamos Antetokounmpo US Sustainable Equities Fund - Class Z (EUR) Accumulating Hedged; ISIN: LU2709497031

Calamos Antetokounmpo US Sustainable Equities Fund a sub-fund of Calamos Antetokounmpo Global Funds SICAV

The Fund is managed by FundRock Management Company S.A. (the "Management Company")

Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective: The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is long-term total return through capital appreciation.

Policy: The Sub-Fund will invest primarily in equities and units or shares of other collective investment schemes. The Sub-Fund promotes certain environmental and social characteristics within the meaning of Article 8 of the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation. The Sub-Fund intends to allocate a minimum of 95% of its Net Asset Value in investments which promote the Environmental and Social Characteristics through application of the above investment strategy. The Sub-Fund also intends to allocate a minimum of 80% its Net Asset Value in investments constituting sustainable investments at any one time. The Sub-Fund will exclude certain industries and business activities that, in the Investment Manager's belief, are too environmentally risky or present social outcomes that are too unattractive to warrant investment consideration.

The Sub-Fund will, under normal circumstances, invest at least 80% of its net assets in equities of issuers domiciled in the U.S. that, in the view of the Investment Manager, have above average growth potential and meet the environmental, social and governance (ESG) criteria. The Sub-Fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in equities of issuers that are based outside the U.S., which may include emerging markets.

The Sub-Fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in units or shares of other collective investment schemes, provided that such investments are consistent with the Sub-Fund's investment objective.

The Sub-Fund may hold ancillary liquid assets up to 20% of its net assets. The mentioned 20% limit shall only be temporarily breached for a period of time strictly necessary when, because of exceptionally unfavourable market conditions, circumstances so require and where such breach is justified having regard to the interests of the investors.

The Sub-Fund may partially or fully use, without being obliged, financial derivative instruments to hedge its exposure to various risks including risks related to financial markets or to a specific issuer, to changes in interest rates or in currency exchange rates. There is however no assurance or guarantee that such hedging will be effective.

The Sub-Fund may not enter into securities financing transactions (i.e. repurchase transactions, securities lending, buy-sell back transactions, sell-buy back transactions).

Benchmark: The Sub-Fund is considered to be actively managed without reference to a benchmark or index.

Other Information: Recommendation: Class Z Shares are offered to institutional investors acting and purchasing shares on behalf of retail investors. The Sub-Fund may be appropriate for investors seeking long term capital growth with a medium to high level of risk.

Risk and Reward Profile

This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund.

The risk category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'.

The Class Z Accumulating above is classified in this risk and reward category. This is partly because the Sub-Fund invests in equities and units of other collective investment schemes. The Sub-Fund does not provide its investors with any guarantee on performance, nor on monies invested in it.

In addition to the risk captured by the indicator, the overall Sub-Fund value may be considerably affected by:

Market risk- the risk of loss for a Sub-Fund resulting from fluctuation in the market value of positions in its portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as general economic conditions, interest rates, foreign exchange rates, or the creditworthiness of the issuer of a financial instrument. This is a general risk that applies to all investments, meaning that the value of a particular investment may go down as well as up in response to changes in market variables.

Equity risk- investing in equity securities may offer a higher rate of return than other investments, however the risks may also be higher.

The fundamental risk associated with equity portfolios is the risk that the value of the investments it holds might decrease in value. Equity security value may fluctuate in response to the activities of an individual company or in response to general market and/or economic conditions.

Concentration risk- the majority of Sub-Fund investments will be in equities of issuers that are based in the U.S. This means the Sub-Fund is more sensitive to any economic, market, political or regulatory events impacting U.S.

Currency risk- the Sub-Fund invests in other currencies. Changes in exchange rates will therefore affect the value of the investment.

Leverage risk- use of financial derivatives instruments may increase the volatility of the Sub-Fund's Net Asset Value and may amplify losses which could become significant and potentially cause a total loss of the Net Asset Value in extreme market conditions.

Sustainability risk- a 'sustainability risk' means an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of an investment. The Investment Manager integrates sustainability risks into its investment decision making process to manage such sustainability risks in a way that they do not have a material impact on the performance of the Sub-Fund and therefore the potential impact on the return of the Sub-Fund is expected to be limited. However, no assurance can be given that the Investment Manager will be able to avoid and/or mitigate the impact of sustainability risks on the Sub-Fund and losses may be incurred.

Operational risk- in the event of bankruptcy or insolvency of a service provider, investors may experience delays (for example, delays in the processing of subscriptions, conversions and redemption of Shares) or other disruptions.

For full details of the Sub-Fund's risks please see the Sub-Fund's Prospectus, which is available at www.calamos.com.
